The Premises:

Helen works from her lovely home which is spotlessly clean and in a good area, I felt very safe and secure in the area.

The Lady:

Eye-catching lady of about 50 years of age, slim and elegant, with short fair hair

The Story:

I was shown to where the action would take place, massage room, with low lighting and candles, sensual music playing. An assisted bath taken first, so you are nice and fresh for the action. Helen soaps your bits and then leaves you to dry off and enter the massage room.

On entering massage room she was lying on the massage table dressed seductively in bra and panties. What an incredible body this lady has, plenty kissing before being requested to remove her bra and get my lips on to her responsive nipples, at the same time as she started work on my rapidly hardening cock.

I was then asked me to stretch out face down on the massage table and she began to massage me with oil. There was a mirror on the side wall that I could view what she was doing, but sometimes its good just to close your eyes and wait see where she is going next! The anticipation is well worth it! She works her way up my body with firm and light strokes interspersed with some light kissing of my back and neck, at some point her panties were surplus to requirement. Ever in control she guides my hand over her breasts and then to her pussy leaving it there just long enough. Then climbing up on top of me and began sliding up and down my back, rubbing her breasts and pubic area into my back.

I was then asked to turn over paying fastidious consideration to my cock, with further kissing and sliding, this is the closest thing to having penetrative sex without having penetrative sex, nothing is hurried, taking you to the threshold then back down again more than a few times, at the point I was ready to cum, it was like an detonation, even then no haste, she cleaned me up and then invited me to join her in the bath to cleanse away the massage oil.

Another cup of coffee and a chat, never hurried at any point!

This Discerning experience, if you don't want penetrative sex is unadulterated ecstasy, I would recommended it to anyone. I will be back!
